Update 12 Jul 2011 In view of the troubles in Syria, we will hold further trips until the country stabilises. Do email us if you are interested and let's keep our fingers cross that will calm down by Sep 2012.

Update 16 Jan 2011 We will offer a Jordan extension of 6 days for those interested. Cost will be based on the numbers going. Do let us know when you register your interest for Syria Lebanon.

Update 20 July 2010 If you like to register your interest for Syria Sep 2011, kindly do so by emailing yazmiee@gmail.com or call him at 012 8071700. Note that the trip cost above is based on Mar 2011 airfares of Rm2570 + taxes Rm190. It will be adjusted once the actual cost is known. We will offer a 7 days trip to Jordan. Let us know if you can make it for this Jordan trip that covers the Dead Sea, Dana Valley, Petra and Wadi Rum.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

This is meant to be a "free and easy" adventure trip. Participants should be relatively fit, with a good sense of humour, and above all, have the right attitude for close travel with others through possibly some trying times. Most definitely, this is not a trip for prudes, whiners, fuss-pots, and other similiarly assorted types! We had a couple of those before and it was not pleasant for us or them. Although every effort will be made to stick to the given itinerary, ground conditions may change and cause some disruption and/or deviation from the norm. Otherwise, have fun.

Palmyra's Roman City / Aleppo Souk

I have been to Syria two times on a personal trip and once in 2006 with a Yongo Group of 11 pax. I would rate it as one of the friendliest countries that I have visited. Breathtaking scenery, magnificent historical monuments and some the friendliest people in the world await the traveller, just as they have for centuries. Between explorations of majestic Roman archaeological ruins, such as Palmyra and Bosra, you wander the atmospheric alleyways and labyrinthine souqs or market of Damascus and Aleppo. You will be amazed by the great mix of both Muslim and Christian culture and sites.

We stay in budget hotels on twin-share basis with private bath. Its quite important participants be able to manage their own luggage and backpacks would be the preferred type of bag. As usual, you pay for your own meals, entrance fees and other activities. We hire a private bus to take us from Airport to Airport. There is good shopping in Syria. So do bring sufficient cash.

Day 0 KLIA: Assemble at KLIA 11PM 10 Sep 2012 Mon (no need to take annual leave)

Day 1 Beirut Lebanon: Fly on 11 Sep 2012 Tue on Emirates Airlines EK343 to Dubai at 210AM arriving 510AM (7hr). From Dubai, we fly EK957 to Beirut 730am arriving 915am (3.5hr). We have a full day visiting Beirut aka the Paris of the Middle East. Beirut is known for its modern buildings and one sees numerous American influences in its fast food chains and the American University. Overnight (ON) Beirut.

Day 2 Byblos & Qadisha Grottos: We begin the day visiting UNESCO listed Byblos and the Grottos of Qadisha. We return to Beirut for overnight stay.

Day 3 Baalbeck & Kracs des Chevaliers: We travel 4hr to visit Baalbeck, Lebanon's premier tourist site and a UNESCO site in the morning. We then cross the Lebanese/Syrian border and proceed to Krak des Chevaliers. ON Krak des Chevaliers.

Day 4 Ugarit Alphabets & Salah ad-Din Castle: In the morning we visit still intact Crusader's Castle. Described by TE Lawrence (of Arabia fame) as 'the finest Crusader's castle in the world', the Krak is one of Syria's premier attraction and a must-see. Then we drive on to Ugarit site, the origin of the world's earliest alphabets and musical notes. The Ugaritic tablets found here is a greatly simplified system of 30 symbols, each of which represents one sound. We then move on to Saladdin Castle where we spend the night in a nearby hotel.

Day 5 Salah ad-Din Castle & Hama: We hop over to Qala'at Salah ad-Din Castle (Saladdin Castle), an ancient Crusader's Castle, second fiddle to Krak des Chevaliers but beautifully perched on top of a heavily wooded ridge with near-precipitous sides dropping away to surrounding ravines. Built by the Crusaders, control exchanged hands a couple of times before it was finally abandoned. Next stop is Apamea Roman City. We travel another 25km to Hama for our overnight stop.

Day 6 Sergilla Dead City & Aleppo: We spent the morning visiting the 20m giant water wheels called Norias in Hama. We then visit Sergila, one of hundreds of Dead Cities, which were former Christian settlements producing wine before Muslim took over. Our final stop in this day is Aleppo where we will spend three nights.

Day 7 St Simeon Basilica Aleppo: We spend the most part of today visiting Locally known as Qala'at Samaan, this was a place of pilgrimage for Byzantine Christians. The Church today it is remarkably well preserved with Romanesque facade. ON Aleppo.

Krak des Chevaliers / Bosra Roman Amphitheatre

Day 8 Aleppo's Old Market: Unesco listed Aleppo vies with Damascus for the title of the world's oldest continually inhabited city. Today we spend the whole day wandering and getting "lost" in the huge Old City souk, sharing the narrow lanes with donkeys and little Suzuki vans. ON Aleppo.

Day 9 Rasafa Walled City & Dier Ez Zur: Our first stop is the abandoned town of Rasafa 2.5hr, which was a thriving site for Christian pilgrims. Three churches remain, the biggest being St Sergius Basilica. After that it's 2hr to the town of Dier Ez Zur, a busy little market town by the historical Euphrates River. ON Dier Ez Zur.

Day 10 Desert Castle & Palmyra: We visit the 8th century Qasr Al-Heir Ash-Sharqi (aka East Wall Palace), an isolated castle in the middle of a desert that once held a strategic position on the Old Silk Route. Another 120km brings us to Palmyra, Syria's prime tourist attraction and one of the most well-preserved ancient Roman Cities in the World. The town grew around the ruins which is just over 500m from the town centre. We will spend the rest of the day visiting this extensive site. ON Palmyra.

Day 11 Damascus: We travel 3hr to Damascus, the capital of Syria. 3hr, Syria's prime tourist attraction and one of the most well preserved ancient Roman city in the world (UNESCO). We will arrive with ample time to visit the Old Town.

Day 12 Bosra Roman Theatre: Its 4hours return trip to Bosra to visit one of the best preserved Roman theatre encompassed by an Arab fortress. This is a UNESCO listed site and was the last stop for Muslims on their way to Mecca. ON Damascus.

Day 13 Home : We have a last day to see more of the Old Town, a UNESCO site. Found in the old city is the Umayyad Mosque, in which is found the mausoleum of Saladin, the greatest Muslim conquerer as well as the shrine of John the Baptist aka the Dragon Slayer, said to contain the biblical character's head. We transfer to the Airport for EK914 flight at 450PM to Dubai arriving at 940PM.

Day 14 Home : From Dubai EK346 departs at 405AM arriving KLIA at 255PM on 24 Sep 2012 Monday.
